

The International Law Association (Australian Branch) has the pleasure of inviting all members and non-members to its annual end of year function

Climate Change and Sea-Level Rise: Possible International Law Responses

When	Thursday, 6 December 2018 5.30pm
Where	Marque Lawyers Level 4, 343 George Street, Sydney
Cost	$15 (members) $25 (non-members)

Drinks and canapés will be provided

Please register your attendance by email to secretary@ila.org.au by Monday, 3 December 2018

Panellists

Justice Nicola Pain
NSW Land and Environment Court

Professor Jane McAdam
Scientia Professor of Law, UNSW

Professor Donald Rothwell
Professor of Law, ANU

Chair

Dr Rosemary Rayfuse
Scientia Professor of Law, UNSW

At the 2018 Biennial Conference of the International Law Association, held in Sydney in August, the ILA's Committee on International Law and Sea-Level Rise adopted two resolutions, which will be discussed on this panel. The first resolution adopted the Sydney Declaration of Principles on the Protection of Persons Displaced in the Context of Sea Level Rise. The second resolution concerned the consequences of sea-level rise on maritime zones and boundaries. In light of these developments, it is also timely to consider the opportunities and challenges for Australia in responding to climate change.

